

WSJ's Ahead of the Tape column says Target isn't cheap
Wednesday, February 26, 2014 03:49:17 AM (GMT)

- The column says that the company is responding to its data breach in the same admirable -- and quickly share-price-protecting -- way that Johnson & Johnson (JNJ) responded to Tylenol poisoning in 1982, but it seems likely that the stock is trading at the right level right now.

Reference Links:

- Wall Street Journal

Industries: Retail (Department & Discount)

Primary Identifiers: TGT-US

Related Identifiers: TGT-US

Subjects: Articles, Reports, Media Summaries