"Six Flags is a very special company made of exceptional people dedicated to giving their absolute best every day," said Six Flags Senior Vice President of Human Resources, Kathy Aslin. "Because our team members are our most valuable asset, we strive to provide them with a best-in-class benefits package and create a working environment that is not only fun, but one that recognizes and rewards their efforts. We are delighted to once again be singled out as a Best and Brightest Company."

An independent research firm evaluates each company using key measures that include Compensation, Benefits and Employee Solutions; Employee Enrichment, Engagement and Retention; Employee Education and Development; Recruitment, Selection and Orientation; Employee Achievement and Recognition; Communication and Shared Vision; Diversity and Inclusion; Work-Life Balance; Community Initiatives; and Strategic Company Performance.

"Dallas-Fort Worth companies realize that their employees are key to business success. The companies that were selected demonstrated innovative human resource practices. They intentionally keep employee needs at the forefront of their policies," said National Association for Business Resources President and CEO, Jennifer Kluge. "We are very impressed by the commitment that they have demonstrated to their employees."
