

Stone & Magnanini LLP Files Lawsuit On Behalf of Equifax Identity Theft Protection and Credit Monitoring Service Customers Over Data Breach Incident
Tuesday, October 10, 2017 06:02:00 PM (GMT)

BERKELEY HEIGHTS, N.J., Oct. 10, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- On September 7, 2017, Equifax publicly disclosed one of the largest data breach incidents in United States history, implicating the release of confidential and secure information belonging to 145 million United States consumers. Stone & Magnanini LLP, a nationally recognized boutique litigation firm, recently filed a class-action complaint against Equifax Incorporated and Equifax Information Services on behalf of all persons in the United States who entered into an agreement for services or products with, or who otherwise directly transmitted to Equifax, any of their personally identifiable information ("PII"), and whose PII was accessed without authorization in the data breach Equifax announced in September 2017.

Equifax's gross-mishandling of highly confidential personal information is causing many to worry, but is particularly outrageous in light of the fact that our clients, and many others throughout the country, paid Equifax substantial sums of money for identity theft protection and credit monitoring services. "This case presents the ultimate irony because our clients turned over their confidential information to Equifax and paid Equifax to help protect them from identity theft," said Stone & Magnanini Managing Partner David Stone. "Now, our clients are victims of identity theft because of Equifax's failure to protect that information which was entrusted to them," continued Stone. "Equifax promised to provide a service to our clients, and they utterly failed to do so," said Robert Magnanini, who also noted that Stone & Magnanini has filed one of the only complaints in the country focused specifically on representing Equifax customers in their efforts to recover monies paid to Equifax for services they did not receive.

The plaintiffs are represented by Managing Partners David Stone and Robert Magnanini, Special Counsel Julio Gomez, and Associate Jason Kanterman.

If you are interested in speaking with one of our attorneys about your case, please fill out the inquiry form on our website dedicated to helping victims of Equifax's data breach: <http://www.equifaxclassactionteam.com>.

To learn more about Stone & Magnanini LLP, please visit <http://www.stonemagnalaw.com>.

David Stone of Stone & Magnanini LLP discusses the Equifax Breach on Bloomberg Law Radio. To hear this broadcast, please visit <https://www.bloomberg.com/news/audio/2017-10-03/former-equifax-ceo-assumes-the-congressional-hot-seat-audio>.

ABOUT STONE & MAGNANINI LLP

Stone & Magnanini, a nationally recognized boutique litigation firm, represents plaintiffs and defendants in complex litigation matters. Stone & Magnanini specializes in complex fraud cases in the financial, healthcare, technology, and entertainment sectors, including class-actions, intellectual property, antitrust, and whistleblower cases brought on behalf of the United States of America.

SOURCE: Stone & Magnanini LLP

David Stone, 973-218-1111

View original content: <http://www.prnewswire.com/news-releases/stone--magnanini-llp-files-lawsuit-on-behalf-of-equifax-identity-theft-protection-and-credit-monitoring-service-customers-over-data-breach-incident-300534134.html>

SOURCE Stone & Magnanini LLP

Countries: United States

Languages: English

Primary Identifiers: 05MC4X-E, EFX-US

Related Identifiers: 05MC4X-E, EFX-US

Subjects: Legal Issues