

Travelers Recognized for Commitment to Diversity
Monday, May 05, 2014 11:00:00 AM (GMT)

Named one of DiversityInc's 25 Noteworthy Companies for second consecutive year

Travelers (NYSE: TRV) today announced it has been selected as one of DiversityInc magazine's 25 Noteworthy Companies. This is the second consecutive year Travelers has been recognized for its diversity and inclusion efforts, and was selected from more than 1,000 participating companies. Recognition is based on an annual survey by DiversityInc that measures CEO commitment, human capital, corporate and organizational communications and supplier diversity.

"We strive to incorporate diversity into everything we do at Travelers, and we are honored to be recognized by DiversityInc for our continued efforts," said Joelle Murchison, Vice President of Enterprise Diversity and Inclusion at Travelers. "A commitment to diversity and inclusion is imperative to our corporate culture, the success of our business and is part of what makes Travelers a great place to work. It is an effort that is promoted and supported throughout all levels of our organization."

Diversity takes shape in many different ways at Travelers, including:

- Partnering with diverse professional organizations including INROADS, The POSSE Foundation, the National Black MBA Association and the Association of Latino Professionals in Finance and Accounting.
- Launching employee-led diversity networks focused on the attraction, retention and development of all Travelers employees, many of whom are engaged by the company's leaders to influence business strategy. More than 5,000 employees have joined at least one of the Diversity Networks to date, more than double what most employers see according to a study conducted by Mercer on employee resource groups.
- Supporting the company's signature education program, Travelers EDGE: Empowering Dreams for Graduation and Employment. EDGE is designed to increase the number of underrepresented individuals who complete a bachelor's degree and are prepared for a career at Travelers or within the Insurance and Financial Services industry. The program was lauded by the Pell Institute as a "model" on the "cutting edge of college access and success support."
