Thursday, April 28, 2016 10:08:27 AM (GMT)

- Dunkin' Brands announced that Paul Twohig, President, Dunkin' Donuts U.S. and Canada, has decided to retire at the end of Q1 of 2017. The company plans to name a successor before the end of the year and is currently conducting a search which will consider both internal and external candidates.
- Twohig will remain in his current position, with responsibility for Dunkin' Donuts U.S. and Canada operations as well as global franchising and store development for both Dunkin' Donuts and Baskin-Robbins, until a successor is appointed. After that, he will remain actively involved with the company until he retires next year. He will continue to report to Nigel Travis, Dunkin' Brands Chairman and CEO.
- Dunkin' Brands also announced the promotions of Chris Fuqua, to SVP, Dunkin' Donuts Brand Marketing, Global Consumer Insights & Product Innovation, and Scott Hudler, to Chief Digital Officer. Both Fuqua and Hudler will continue to report to Travis.
