PEOPLE: PROMOTING DIVERSE, HEALTHY AND VIBRANT COMMUNITIES AND WORKPLACES

Delivering Value

In the past five years, Caesars has generated almost $50 billion in economic value benefiting the communities it serves, in the form of employee wages and benefits, payments to vendors for goods and services, and payments to governments for taxes and licenses, among other things, including $9.5 billion in 2016. Additional accomplishments include:

- Generated $5.7 million enterprise-wide of contributed societal value for every $10 million in gross revenue, almost triple the estimated average of U.S. corporations.
- Caesars is recognized as the most community-minded company in the consumer discretionary industry by Civic 50, a Points of Life initiative.
- 46 percent of employees engaged in volunteer activity in 2016, versus the national volunteer average of 25 percent.

Diversity & Inclusion

Caesars continues to advance diversity efforts across the enterprise:

- Caesars received a perfect score of 100 percent on the 2017 Corporate Equality Index for the 10th consecutive year.
- 44 percent of managers are women, which is the highest ratio of women managers ever at Caesars and is significantly higher than the national average of 38 percent.
- Currently, 37 percent of managers are from minority groups, an increase of 3 percentage points over 2015, and 68 percent higher than the national average of 22 percent.
- Caesars has a target for 50 percent of manager level or higher employees to be minorities or women by 2030.

"We had some true highlights in the past year, especially being recognized for the third consecutive time by the Civic 50 as one of the nation's most community minded companies," said Jan Jones Blackhurst, Executive Vice President of Public Policy and Corporate Responsibility for Caesars. "As we continue to expand into new markets, we find that our strong citizenship record is an asset that is strongly appreciated. I am inspired to keep pushing on the issues that impact us all, including gender equality, climate action and human trafficking."

Health & Wellbeing

Employee participation in Caesars' award-winning Wellness Rewards program is more than double the average rate of that of large companies in the U.S.

- 92 percent of participating team members completed biometric health screening in 2016, with data showing improvement across key health risks over a six-year period.

PLANET: REDUCING OUR IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT

Triple A CodeGreen Performance

In 2016 Caesars' CodeGreen citizenship strategy again delivered industry-leading performance. One of only 30 companies in the U.S. to achieve Triple A scores in three CDP (formerly known as Carbon Disclosure Project) rankings; Caesars ranked A for climate change disclosure, A- for water disclosure and A- for supplier engagement (37 percent of Caesars' top 150 suppliers submitted information to the CDP climate change database). Highlights of Caesars' environmental progress in the U.S. include:

- -23 percent energy reduction per air-conditioned square foot since 2007.

Caesars is committed to an absolute reduction of Greenhouse Gas emissions by 30 percent before 2025 and commits to a 95 percent absolute reduction by 2050 (using 2011 as a baseline). With these goals, Caesars leads the gaming entertainment industry and aligns with the small number of corporations around the world that have publicly committed to science-based targets aimed to keep the temperature rise of the planet below two degrees Celsius.
