Wednesday, April 17, 2019 03:00:00 PM (GMT)

Discover is looking to fill more than 160 Discover Student Loans positions in its Phoenix location. This hiring initiative will feature seasonal positions working with student loan applications, loan processing and customer service. There is the potential for some of these positions to convert into full-time.

"These openings come at a critical time in the college financing process as families begin discussions around paying for college," said Steve Peck, Vice President, Discover Phoenix Customer Care Center. "We're looking for caring candidates that can help these families with everything from filling out an application to answering questions as they determine if a student loan is right for them."

The Phoenix center is home to many amenities including indoor and outdoor walking paths, lounges, and sports facilities. The full service cafeteria includes a variety of healthy eating options with nutrition information included on freshly made dishes. Discover also promotes employee wellness by having an on-site nurse and counselor.

"Beyond the campus, Discover provides a workplace culture that embraces collaboration, inclusion and respect. The Phoenix center repeatedly has received local awards for being a top place to work in the area," said Peck. "We are looking for candidates who are drawn to this type of environment."
