

TransUnion Introduces New Government Advisory Board

Wednesday, April 20, 2016 10:00:00 AM (GMT)

CHICAGO, IL--(Marketwired - April 20, 2016) - TransUnion (NYSE: TRU) announced today the formation of its new Government Advisory Board. The advisory board will provide TransUnion with valuable perspective and key insights into the unique needs of the public sector.

"We are pleased to bring together a group of leaders from both the public and private sectors to help ensure we are providing the resources most needed by government organizations," said Jonathan McDonald, executive vice president of TransUnion's government information solutions business unit. "The new advisory board will help TransUnion gain a deeper understanding of the issues faced by government agencies, and it also demonstrates our continued commitment to help government agencies meet their mission now and in the future."

Led by Jonathan McDonald, the six-member board also includes Charles Alsup, president of the Intelligence and National Security Alliance (INSA); Roger W. Baker, consultant at Roger Baker Consulting LLC; W. Ralph Basham, partner at Command Consulting Group; Jim Hodges, partner at McGuireWoods LLP and senior advisor at McGuireWoods Consulting LLC; and James M. Myers, sector vice president, global operations at Northrop Grumman Corporation.

TransUnion's Government Information Solutions division provides fraud, benefit eligibility verification, continuous evaluation services, identity authentication, data breach response, investigation services, and other key solutions to federal, state and local government agencies in the U.S. TransUnion's solutions help both private and government sector organizations manage risk and reduce costs.
