

Kellogg Company Partners With GLAAD For Spirit Day, Launching New 2019 Edition of "All Together" Cereal
Thursday, October 17, 2019 10:00:00 AM (GMT)

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 17, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Kellogg Company continues its partnership with GLAAD as an official sponsor for Spirit Day on Oct. 17 by launching a new "All Together Cereal" and donating $50,000 to support GLAAD's anti-bullying and LGBTQ advocacy efforts. As a company, Kellogg dedicates efforts to promote inclusivity in the communities where we both work and play. The company, its employees and brands join millions of people "going purple" to support the LGBTQ youth community and Spirit Day—the largest and most visible anti-bullying campaign in the world.

This year, Kellogg releases the all-new, limited edition 2019 "All Together Cereal" with six mini cereal boxes packaged inside one larger exclusive "All Together" box to celebrate the belief that we all belong together. The box brings together six of the famous Kellogg mascots and cereals inside the same carton as a symbol of acceptance no matter how you look, where you're from or who you love. "All Together Cereal" is available while supplies last for a limited time on Thursday, Oct. 17 for online retail through Kelloggstore.com for $19.99. Kellogg is donating $50,000 to GLAAD to support its anti-bullying and LGBTQ advocacy efforts.

Each limited-edition carton of "All Together Cereal" includes individual boxes of some of Kellogg's most beloved cereals including Kellogg's Frosted Flakes®, Froot Loops®, Rice Krispies®, Raisin Bran®, Frosted Mini-Wheats® and Corn Flakes®.

"At Kellogg, we are firmly committed to equity and inclusion in the workplace, marketplace and in the communities where we work and live," said Priscilla Koranteng, Vice President, Global Talent and Chief Diversity Officer. "We have long been allies and supporters of LGBTQ employees, their families and the community. For more than 100 years, Kellogg has nourished families so they can flourish and thrive, and the company continues to welcome everyone to the table."

"We are proud to partner with Kellogg's again this year to help extend the important message of Spirit Day to households across the country," said John McCourt, Senior Director of Development & Integrated Marketing at GLAAD. "The All Together cereal encompasses the values of diversity, equality, and solidarity that Spirit Day is all about, and we hope that LGBTQ youth everywhere receive the messages loud and clear."

To celebrate, actor and activist Joshua Rush will host a Spirit Day event at the Kellogg's NYC café, located at 31 E 17th St. The limited-release All Together boxes will be available for purchase, along with the chance to mix your own one-of-a-kind cereal. Guests will have the chance to meet with Rush, sign the Spirit Day pledge, and learn more about the mission and GLAAD.

Globally, Kellogg employees around the world will participate in conversations that enable the company to build a culture where all employees are inspired to share their passion, talents and ideas.
