"Macy's is thrilled to partner with Katie Chin to celebrate Asian Pacific American Heritage Month and honor its rich culture and heritage, in stores nationwide. Chin offers a unique and celebrated take on Asian Cuisine, and we are excited to share her story and expertise with Macy's customers," said Dineen Garcia, Macy's vice president of Diversity & Inclusion Strategies.

Chin recently released her fourth title, "Katie Chin's Everyday Chinese Cookbook: 101 Delicious Recipes from My Mother's Kitchen," featuring her mother's most beloved recipes.

In the past, Chin co-hosted the national PBS cooking series, "Double Happiness," in conjunction with her mother, and together they wrote "Everyday Chinese Cooking." On her own, Chin wrote "300 Best Rice Cooker Recipes" and the award-winning bestseller "Everyday Thai Cooking." She has also been featured in several national publications including O

Magazine, Cooking Light, bon appetit, Elle, Real Simple, and Family Circle, and has made appearances on The "Today Show", the Hallmark Channel, "The Daily Buzz," the Cooking Channel, and as a guest judge on Food Network's "Iron Chef America" and a chef contestant on "Cutthroat Kitchen."

"In the spirit of my mother, Leeann Chin's enduring legacy, I am so proud to partner with Macy's to celebrate my heritage and demystify authentic Asian cooking for everyday home chefs across the U.S.," said Katie Chin.

Following the cooking demo, Macy's will host a customer reception, where Chin will sign her most recent book, "Katie Chin's Everyday Chinese Cookbook: 101 Delicious Recipes from My Mother's Kitchen." Plus, with any home purchase of $50 or more, guests will receive limited-edition branded chopsticks and a copy of Chin's newest cookbook. (While supplies last and as time permits. Purchase must be at the specific Macy's event location and made on the day of the event.)
