Target has learned that data breach extended to 18-Dec - WSJ Wednesday, February 05, 2014 06:01:12 AM (GMT)

The WSJ reports that CFO John Mulligan told the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday that while the chain thought it had cleaned its system by 15-Dec, it has become aware that data thefts continued for three more days on another 25 checkout machines. Fewer than 150 additional credit/debit cards were compromised.

Reference Links:

• Wall Street Journal

Industries: Retail (Department & Discount)

Primary Identifiers: TGT-US Related Identifiers: TGT-US

Subjects: Articles, Reports, Media Summaries

Related Stories:

• Target announces accelerated implementation of chip-enabled smart cart technology to protect consumers from fraud

• Target hit by theft of customers' credit card data over Black Friday weekend -- Dow Jones, citing sources